

Compliance 360 Announces Integration with Thomson Reuters' Westlaw Online Database

Compliance 360 broadens Coverage of Legal and Regulatory Content to Help Customers Better Manage Governance, Oversight and Regulatory Compliance

Atlanta, GA-November 13, 2008- Compliance 360, a leading provider of Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) solutions for enterprise governance, risk and compliance (eGRC), announced today that it has partnered with West, a business unit of Thomson Reuters (NYSE: TRI), to provide their mutual customers with a comprehensive legal and regulatory risk platform.

With the new integration, Compliance 360 customers are able to access the latest updates to federal and state laws and regulations, public records and other content available in the Westlaw database, thereby making better, more timely decisions in managing legal and regulatory risk throughout their organizations. Utilizing this integrated solution, legal, compliance and risk management personnel can better respond to external regulatory events and stay abreast of newly proposed or enacted laws and regulations applicable to their businesses. Additionally, this partnership will allow customers to more effectively address the mandates required in their regulatory environment.

"In light of today's economic and political climate, demand for our legal and regulatory compliance solution has increased significantly and looking ahead, we believe these demands will continue to grow. With West as a premier partner, we will ensure that our customers can stay on top of regulatory changes and take action in a cost-effective manner," said Steve McGraw, Compliance 360 chief executive officer. "This integration with Westlaw, a leading online source of primary law, legal analysis and litigation materials, provides access to one of the broadest selections of legal and regulatory content, within the most complete eGRC software platform available for regulated industries."
