Press Release

ESI ready to release first healthcare application

Atlanta, Georgia, March 1, 2000: Emerging Solutions is an Internet software design company in Alpharetta, Georgia. For the past four years, Emerging Solutions has successfully serviced the construction industry. Last year Emerging Solutions started a healthcare division and is now poised to bring its Internet project management solution for the healthcare industry to market. "We are very excited about taking the largest industry, healthcare, and combining it with the largest potential industry, the Internet," said Scott Unger, President. Project management software for healthcare is an untapped market. If early responses from hospitals are any indication then Emerging Solutions will have the opportunity to be the Internet experts for the healthcare industry.

Healthcare executives interested in trying the system on their own can contact ESI at (800) 374-2260 to obtain a password to an on-line demonstration. See for yourself the advantages that HealthFlash can bring to your organization.
